

Supreme Court to Decide on Barnett Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court decided today to hear argument next fall on whether Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi is entitled to a jury trial on criminal contempt charges.

The case is to be argued during two-week argument session that begins Oct. 14.

No specific argument date within that period was fixed for hearing this particular case.

The contempt proceeding was begun by the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans, La., as a result the governor's efforts to block enrollment of James H. Meredith, a Negro, at the University of Mississippi.

Also charged with contempt is Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. After bringing the contempt charges, the Circuit Court on April 9, 1963 deeded 4-4 on the issue of whether Barnett and Johnson could be tried by a jury as they had requested. Four judges voted for a jury trial and four voted to try the case themselves without a jury.

The Circuit Court then asked the Supreme Court to make the decision on the jury trial question.

Barnett and Johnson first were cited for civil contempt. The Circuit Court found them guilty, but before enforcing penalties it ordered the criminal contempt proceedings against the officials and left hanging the civil contempt case.

The Circuit Court had charged Barnett, 64, with contempt after he disobeyed its order not to interfere with Meredith's admission to the university. Johnson was made a party to the proceeding on the ground he had stopped Meredith on one occasion.

Meredith was admitted to the university last fall after rioting in the area.

Germany Gets U. S. Missile

WASHINGTON (AP)—West Germany has received its first U.S. Sergeant missile, a fast-firing bombardment weapon which can hurl a conventional or atomic warhead up to 75 miles.

Informed sources said today the Sergeant went to the German forces last month. There was no indication how many were involved.

As with all other atomic-capable weapons, the United States retains control over any nuclear warheads that may be mounted on Germany's Sergeants.

The Defense Department announced about seven weeks ago its plan to start sending Sergeants to U.S. Army forces in West Germany in March. No announcement has been made of deliveries to the Germans.

Germany pays for the weapons it gets from the United States.

Authorities said Germany already has 12-mile range Honest John and 75-mile range Corporal missiles as well as 8-inch howitzers capable of firing atomic shells.

State Death Toll Is 12 on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A collision involving five cars claimed one life and injured four persons near Ozark, boosting the violent death toll for the state to 12 for the week ended midnight Sunday.

Oscar Guerian, 78, of Fresno, Calif., was killed in the accident. His son, John, 40, also of Fresno was seriously injured.

Also seriously hurt were Glen F. Briley, 43, his wife, Clessie, 39, and son Gary, 19, all of Van Buren. The Brileys and the younger Guerian were hospitalized at Fort Smith.

Sheriff Bob Pritchard of Franklin County said the accident occurred three miles east of Ozark on U.S. Highway 64. He said a car driven by Troy Simms of Russellville went out of control while Simms was passing one car and struck the Guerian car.

Two cars were slightly damaged in the crash, and one car ran into a ditch in avoiding the collision.

Saturday, James D. Jackson, 21, and Clois Walton Kitchens, 20, both of Dierks, were killed when their car hit a bridge abutment on state Highway 27 about three miles south of Nashville.

Sheriff Fomby Jackson said James Jackson was driving the car.

Virgil Sansoucia, 43, of near Sedgewick, died on his way to a Walnut Ridge hospital Saturday night of injuries allegedly suffered in a fight at a nightclub near the Jackson-Lawrence county line.

Prosecutor Norman Harkey said Verlon Murphy, 40, of Sedgewick, had been charged with first degree murder in the death and was being held under $5,000 bond.

Also during the week, five other persons died in traffic accidents; one was shot to death; one was crushed to death beneath falling logs; and one died of a fall.

Little Rock Zoo Wants White Tigers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two white tigers and India's export laws have created a 625,000 dilemma which Little Rock Zoo Director Raymond Squires may not try to solve.

He heard a radio commentator say the Indian government wanted to get rid of the tigers if good homes could be found for them. After considerable trouble, Squires made contact with the proprietor of the household of the Maharaja of Rewa.

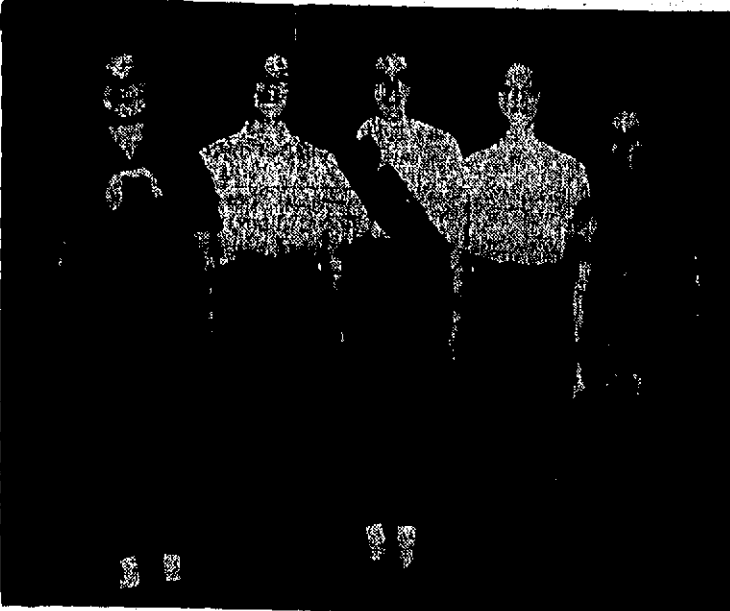

The comptroller's estimate on the cost of two white tigers: $21,000. Cost of shipping to Little Rock: $4,000.

Even at that, India has banned export of white tigers, but an export permit might be obtained through the American Embassy. Squires said he might start a fund drive to bring the tigers to Arkansas if an export permit is received. If not, he'll forget it.

First Strawberries

BALD KNOB, Ark. (AP)—The first strawberries harvested in Arkansas in the 1963 harvest season have been sold at auction for $275. The 16-quart crate was brought by D. R. Shafer of Hybel Produce Co. and Bud Litowich & Son, both of Benton Harbor, Mich. The berries were produced by S. W. Holt of McRae who turned the money over to the Bald Knob Lions Club to be used for local charities.

Attend Scout Award Brunch

All the Young Ladies received certificates. Mindy McElroy sold 141 boxes and earned a $5 award. Pam Butler sold 104 and received a scout camera. In addition to the awards the girls helped to boost the cookie sale bonus given to each troop at the close of the sale.

Money from the annual sale is used to maintain Camp High Point, established Conifer Council Camp at Mena, Ark.

Record Vote in Italy Is Predicted

By GERALD MILLER

ROME (AP)—A record voter turnout was indicated today as Italy wound up nationwide elections to pick a new Parliament and pass judgment on government cooperation with the left.

Voters who didn't cast ballots on the first day of polling Sunday had a final seven hours today.

In 14 hours of polling Sunday 80 per cent of the 34 million eligible voters went to the polls. This compared with 77 per cent for the first day of balloting in 1958, when the election ended with a record turnout of 93.8 per cent.

Six persons were injured in a series of pre-dawn bombings Sunday in Milan's central railway station. Police blamed agitators for greater local autonomy in the Alto Adige (South Tyrol), a north Italian area that once belonged to Austria.

The voter turnout reflected the intense interest in the future of Christian Democratic Premier Amintore Fanfani's policy of cooperating with Pietro Nenni's Socialist party that formerly was allied with the Communists.

Both the Communists and parties of the right denounced Fanfani's center-left alliance. But the Roman Catholic Church approved and called on Catholics to back the Catholic party.

The voters were choosing 630 deputies and 315 senators for the Italian republic's fourth Parliament. There were more than 7,000 candidates. In the outgoing chamber the Christian Democrats were the biggest party by far with 273 seats although they were 43 seats short of a majority. The Socialists did not join the coalition government, but Socialist support in Parliament gave Fanfani a voting majority.

King Raps Churches for Not Helping

By GERALD MILLER

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., the Negro integrationist leader, attacked Negro churches in a sermon in Little Rock today for not helping Negroes during the darkest hour of the social, psychological and moral orders.

King preached the sermon at the 118th anniversary services of the First Missionary Baptist Church. About 600 Negroes packed the church, along with a few whites, including some Catholic priests.

"It is midnight in the world's social, psychological and moral orders," King said, adding that some churches "fail to answer the knock at midnight."

He took his text from Luke XI, verses five through eight, which read in part:

"And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves . . . And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee."

Three types of churches fail to answer the knock, King said. He listed them as:

"The ones that freeze up," boasting of dignity, but being nothing more than a social club with a thin veneer of religiosity; "One burns it up," having more gospel in hands and feet than in the heart;

"And the third has no social gospel, always worrying about men's souls but not about the slums that corrupt them," King said.

The Negro's "cup of endurance runneth over," he said, but segregation will not withstand his determination to be free. He said trying to block integration is like "standing on the beach of history, trying to hold back the tide."

King said it is midnight in the social order when a nation founded on the principle of equality is still arguing whether the color of a man's skin determines the measure of his character.

Overflowing mental wards are proof that it is midnight in the psychological order, he said. Consequently, he said, most sermons today can be reinterpreted to read:

"Go ye into all the world and keep your blood pressure down; and lo, I will make you a well-adjusted man."

He said the moral order has been lost and that men are concerned only with conforming, getting by and getting away with what they can. The 11th commandment, King said, should be "Watch out and don't get caught."

Honors to Local School Paper

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ricky Palmer of Wynne has received a $100 journalism scholarship from the Arkansas High School Press Association and Donna Joyce of Stamps received a $50 scholarship.

"Editor of the Year" awards went to Bill Keedy of Newport, Chet Noble of El Dorado, Abbott Trice of DeWitt, and Martha Wilkes of Forest Heights Junior High in Little Rock.

School newspapers judged superior in their divisions included: Schools in the Big Nine Conference: Fort Smith Grizzly, Pine Bluff Cone and El Dorado Hi-Gusher.

High schools with printed papers: West Memphis Blue Devil, Hoxie Mustang, Hope III - Light, The Scholastician of Fort Smith St. Scholastica and the Paragould Echo.

High schools with mimeographed papers: Altheimer III - Times, Newport Greyhound, Wynne Yellowjacket and Arkadelphia Badger.

Junior high school papers: Fort Smith Darby Ranger, Little Rock Southwest Mustang and Little Rock East Side Journal.

There also was speculation that Khrushchev would try to wipe out any bitterness remaining because of his decision to withdraw missiles from Cuba last October without consulting Castro.

Moscow newspapers were full of welcomes for Castro.

"Moscow gives hearty welcome to Fidel Castro," said Pravda. "Moscow embraces Fidel Castro as a brother," was the headline in Izvestia.

The press accounts made up for any lack of warmth in Sunday's greeting.

Khrushchev led 40,000 Russians through a Red Square welcome, but the elaborate show failed to whip up the frenzied enthusiasm westerners had expected.

The bearded Cuban leader proclaimed that, except for the Soviet Union, his revolutionary regime could not exist. He heaped praise on Soviet economic and military aid.

Castro, wearing a fur hat against the chilly winds, was relatively restrained in manner.

Khrushchev opened the proceedings from the reviewing stand atop Lenin's tomb and set the tone.

Travelers Deadlocked for First

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers, deadlocked for first place in the Southern Division of the International League, take on the Syracuse Chiefs in Syracuse tonight.

The Travelers split a double-header with Toronto Sunday, losing the first game 2-1 but taking the second 9-2.

In other games, Jacksonville beat Syracuse 5-4 and 7-2; Buffalo swept a twin bill from Richmond, 4-2 in 15 innings and 1-0 in the second game; Rochester beat Atlanta 11-5 and then lost 1-0 on a wild pitch; Indianapolis nipped Columbus 3-4 and then dropped a 5-0 decision to the Jets.

The Travelers rapped 13 hits to take the victory from the Maple Leafs, with Cal Emery and Mickey Harrington each contributing two-run homers. The winner was Harry Olive. The loser in the first game was John Boozar.

Jacksonville rattled off 25 hits in its twin victory and moved into a tie with Columbus for fourth place in the Southern Division. Catcher Jim Lawrence slammed a two-run homer and two singles in the first game and added a double in the second game.

Shortstop Elio Chacon's bat brought in the winning runs in both games for Buffalo. His double in the first game drove in the two runs that spelled the difference and his home run in the last inning won the second game. Danny Kravitz' solo homer in the sixth inning of the first game provided the bright spot for Richmond.

The twin victories enabled the Bisons to increase their first-place lead in the Northern Division to 2½ games over second place Syracuse.

Rochester blasted four Cracker pitchers for 15 safeties in the first game and the Red Wings scored all their runs in the first five innings. A double, two walks and a wild pitch by loser Ed Hobaugh gave the Crackers the second game victory.

Indianapolis jumped on Tom Cunningham for five runs in the first two innings of the opener. Rookie righthander Tom Parsons, however, took charge of the second game and hurled a four-hit shutout for Columbus. Parsons, displaying excellent control, struck out eight and issued no walks.

Manny Mota, Frank Herrera and Tony Asaro contributed home runs to the Jet cause.

The difference in the score was the result of the toe of Tommy McKnelly, who did the kicking for both teams. McKnelly booted a 32-yard field goal and one extra point for the Whites and three extra points for the Reds.

Quarterbacks Gordon Guest of

Pine Bluff and Billy Gray of Hel-

Ridenour of Fort Smith scored the White Team's opening touchdown and put them in the lead 6-0 in the second quarter.

The first touchdown came at the end of a 24-yard drive which followed the recovery of a Marshall fumble by Bill Knight of Little Rock. Ridenour charged in from the eight-yard line.

Ridenour played a key part in the second touchdown for the Whites when he intercepted a

Marshall pass on the 10 and returned it 84 yards before being pulled down from behind by Kenny Dean of Gillett. Guest sneaked over to get the six points.

The Red Team got its first tally after a 65-yard drive in the second quarter. Bobby Burnette of Bentonville sprinted 37-yards on one run in the drive. McKnelly booted his field goal for the Whites just before the half ended with score at 16-7.

In the second half wingback

Gary Robinson of Little Rock sparked a Red touchdown drive with 14 and 20 - yard runs and scored the touchdown.

The Whites came back and capped a 65-yard drive with a 13-yard pass play for the touchdown.

The Reds picked up their last score with a 14-yard run by Bill

Chapter XXV

"Listen to me," I said, trying to sound as reasonable as a favorite uncle. "You're timing is bad, sweetie. A heel has been murdered, and a decent guy with a wife and two kids has been murdered. Your mother and Matt

Highly are up to their necks in trouble. A crazy killer is on the loose. So you got problems. Bad problems. I'd like to help you with them and I promise I will.

But don't toss this new bomb in our laps. Dawn. Come in and let's try to make sense out of everything, step by step."

"You're a liar, Corny," she said. "I felt you dig your heels

in the ground when I kissed you.

You won't help me with my problems. You'll just have the man with the straight jacket waiting."

"There are better ways to attract attention than jumping off a roof," I said.

"Name one," she said, the orange dots turned my way again.

"You could try walking down

Madison Avenue naked," I said.

She stared at me. "You know,

Corny, I'd try it except for one thing. Experience tells me that no one would notice me. Not a soul!"

"You're forgetting your Prince

Charming," I said.

"Yes," she said. "With his loaded pistol." She turned to look down again. I felt my breath catch in my throat. "Corny," she said.

"Yes?"

"If you were driving across the country in a car on a big broad highway, and you drove and drove and suddenly you came to the end of the highway — and it was in the middle of a desert on the top of a cliff — and there was no place to go, and no water, and no air to breathe — and you turned around and the highway was gone behind you — and your motor stalled — and it wouldn't start again, suppose it happened all of a sudden — just like that. So you got out of the car and you started to run — and you found yourself on the edge of the cliff — looking down. You couldn't go back because there was no place to go back to. You couldn't go forward—because it is thousands of miles to anywhere and you'd drop and die before you could get there. So you could just sit down and die slowly. Or you could take one little step forward — over the cliff — and you'd die instantly.

That's my choice. Don't ask me why I came to the end of the road tonight. I did. So I can come in and die of just breathing, or wait for my young man with a gun, or I can inch forward a little and get where I'm going without any of the anxiety of waiting, without listening to any false pretenses of interest in me — like yours! Frankly, there doesn't seem to be much choice.

Does there?"

My shirt was wringing wet. I

Col.

The game was the last scrimmage before the Little Rock exhibition.

There was Lieutenant Cash, and a fatherly-looking gray-haired man introduced as Captain Nichols, and Sergeant Ballard from the local precinct house, and half-a-dozen uniformed corned cops.

"Where is she?" Captain Nichols asked. He had a pleasant, low, unexcited voice.

"On the terrace," Frances said.

"Down the hall there—" Nichols asked, not moving.

"No one at the moment. She—"

"Why not?" Cash exploded.

"She convinced me if she wasn't left alone she'd jump," I said.

"Are you an expert at this kind of thing the way you are at homicides?" Cash's voice was harsh, his eyes hot with anger.

Power Firm Revenue Is $76.7 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Power & Light Co. reports total revenues of $76.7 million in 1962, an increase of $8.1 million over the previous year.

In its annual report mailed this week to stockholders, AP&L said total energy sales of 5.2 billion kilowatt hours showed an increase of 721 million kilowatt hours over 1961.

A gain of 6,800 customers brought the AP&L total to nearly 315,000 at the end of the year.

The maximum hourly demand of 1,073,000 kilowatts recorded in August 1962 was the first time that the peak demand had passed the million-kilowatt mark.

The company said it had a payroll of more than $14 million for operations, construction and other purposes. AP&L operates in 61 of Arkansas' 75 counties.

AP&L listed $11.4 million as net income, compared with $11.2 million in 1961. Its $13.1 million construction program in 1962 included $10.5 million for expansion and improvement of distribution facilities, the lines and equipment which deliver electricity to customers.

Major power distribution projects were completed at Monticello, Harrison, Smackover, Pine Bluff, Trumann, Little Rock and Hot Springs, while five new high voltage substations were completed last year at Conway, Little Rock, Glendale, Strong and Ham-burg.

The report said a total tax bill of more than $19 million required AP&L to set aside more than 25 cents of each dollar of revenue for that purpose.

Arkansans Indicted by Federal Jury

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Two Arkansas men have been named in a federal grand jury indictment of five former officials of an Albuquerque - based insurance firm.

Named in the indictment was H. Wayne Franklin, of Texarkana, Ark., former president of Rocky Mountain Insurance Co. Franklin is now president of the Guaranty Independent Corp., which is associated with Federal Life Insurance in Texarkana.

The other Arkansas man named was Eugene R. Tharp, former executive vice president and director of Rocky Mountain. Tharp now lives in Little Rock.

The men were also officials of the G and C Investment Co., a New Mexico Corp which the indictment said was set up to sell Rocky Mountain Life Stock.

The others named in the suit were all from Albuquerque.

They are: Charles Carder, former vice president and director of Rocky Mountain and now president of the Charles Carder Construction Co.

Peter Gallagher, vice president and director, also general counsel for Rocky Mountain.

Lawrence L. Cornell, a director and members of the executive committee.

The indictment charged the five and G and C firm with 11 counts of fraud in the sale of stock, two mail use violations in selling stock, two counts of failing to register as broker-dealers in the sale of stock, one count of stock not registered with the securities and exchange commission, and one count of conspiracy to violate SEC regulations.

Weekend Showers End the Drought
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A weekend of showers ended the drought problem that was beginning to pinch Arkansas farmers.

More showers were forecast in most areas through tonight but dry air was expected to move in to the state Tuesday along with cooler temperatures.

Daytime temperatures remained mild through the rainy spell which provided adequate moisture for nearly all sections. Rainfall measurements ranged as high as 3.75 inches at Texarkana.

The parched northeast section received more than one inch of rain with a measurement of 1.2 inches at Blytheville.

Precipitation for the remainder of the week is expected to be light, however, measuring up to 1.4 inch generally with up to 1.2 inch in localities, the weather bureau said.

Sunday's high temperatures were in the 70s with overnight lows between 50 in the northwest and 65 in the southeast.

Young GOPs Name Fayetteville Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Robert Faulkner of Fayetteville has been elected chairman of the Arkansas Young Republican League.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Jewel Jacoby of Little Rock, co-chairman; Miss Doris Anne Suggs of Little Rock, secretary; and Donald Jones of Little Rock, treasurer.

Rep. William Stinson, R-Wash., told the group Saturday that the world is full of trouble for the United States. He blamed the New Frontier and said the only solution is the election of a Republican president and Congress.

Stinson said Americans are "sick and tired of what the New Frontier is doing to our country" and added that Republicans now hope there will be pieces left to pick up in 1964.

He said communism has backed down each time the U.S. has stood firm and communist enslave another nation each time the U.S. is weak.

Arkansas City to Vote on Bonds

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas City residents are pushing to add a bond issue for a new courthouse and jail here to a hospital bond proposal already being circulated.

Petitions asking for $150,000 for a courthouse and jail, in addition to the $400,000 being sought for hospital construction, were started in Arkansas City last week.

The Desha County Courthouse and jail were built in 1900 and both need repairs.

The Arkansas City Chamber of Commerce is the parent of the new proposal. The McGeehee and Dumas chambers launched the hospital drive which is aimed toward construction of a new county hospital at McGeehee and remodeling of the present hospital at Dumas.

Desha County Sheriff Robert Moore said he was sure that enough signatures could be obtained in Arkansas City alone to validate the expanded petition.

If the overall project is not acceptable to McGeehee and Dumas they presumably could file their hospital petitions also and county voters would get a chance to approve the complete package or just the hospital part.

Moore said Arkansas City residents feel the courthouse-jail proposal will make the hospital bond issue even more acceptable.

Storekeeper Held for Slaying

GADSDEN, Ala. (AP) — An attorney planned today to seek the release of rural storekeeper Floyd Simpson, held without bond for the roadside slaying of Baltimore integrationist William L. Moore.

Sheriff Dewey Colvard said a formal first-degree murder charge would be lodged against Simpson today with the signing of a state warrant by the circuit judge and the prosecutor.

Attorney William M. Beck Sr. of Fort Payne said he would attempt to post bond for Simpson, 40, father of six children.

State and county officers continued investigation of the Tuesday night slaying of Moore, a 35-year-old postman who died from two bullet wounds in the head.

Moore had said he was en route to Jackson, Miss., to give his views on integration to Gov. Ross Barnett.

Sheriff Colvard indicated there was nothing new in the case. "We don't know if anyone else was involved," he said. He said all persons questioned previously have been cleared.

Feelings ran high in the rural community of Collihan, about 30 miles to the northwest, where Simpson operated a grocery and service station. Residents, predominantly millworkers and farmers, showed strong hostility to inquisitive strangers.

Simpson, who is slender and graying, was described by the Rev. Russ Porter, who serves a Baptist church in the community, as "a good, hard-working man."

The minister said Mrs. Simpson and the six children, ranging in age from 1 to 17, had attended services at the church where he is pastor. After visiting Mrs. Simpson Sunday at her request, Porter said she was greatly upset.

Simpson was charged informally Sunday after Colvard received a report from a ballistics test on a 22-caliber rifle and two bullets taken from the victim's body. Colvard said the rifle belonged to Simpson.

Queen Alberta
NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Miss Donna Gail Vaughan, 17, a majorette at Nashville High School, has been named Queen Alberta and will reign this summer over the 1963 Peach Festival. Rebecca Utterly, 18, was named Miss Nashville of 1963.

Rush to Take Stand in Murder Trial

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Raymond Wood testified today that he and Carolyn Brown were 20 miles away from the V&R Sales Co., the night his uncle was shot to death in the basement of the building.

The 21-year-old ex-soldier from Roland, Okla., also told the prosecution under cross-examination that he had given false statements to the prosecuting attorney after the shooting.

Wood and Miss Brown, 20, of Fort Smith, are co-defendants in the first degree murder trial of Frederick L. Rush, 26, the adopted son of the shooting victim, Paul Rush.

Frederick Rush was expected to testify in his own behalf later today.

The three were granted separate trials and both Miss Brown and Wood now have testified in Rush's trial.

Wood said the false statements he had given the prosecutor involved the places he had been and the things he had done the night of the shooting. He said he had gotten that night confused with what he had done on other nights.

The red-haired Wood said he and Miss Brown were on Mt. Vista near Van Buren the night of the slaying. He said they were shooting tin cans with .22 caliber revolver.

Paul Rush was shot to death with a .22 caliber bullet and Frederick Rush was wounded in the shoulder by the same kind of bullet.

The defense said Saturday it had been established that the .22 pistol used by Wood and Miss Brown on Mt. Vista was not the murder weapon.

Miss Brown testified earlier that the two were on Mt. Vista on the night of the slaying.

Circuit Judge Paul Wolfe recessed the trial at noon Saturday saying the defense was to call two witnesses and testimony probably would be lengthy. He said he preferred recessing the trial rather than locking up the jury for the weekend.

Before the recess Saturday, Miss Brown testified that she and Wood were on Mount Vista near Van Buren shooting tin cans at the time of the slaying.

Frederick Rush reported the shooting to police by telephone about 11:10 p.m., officers have testified.

Wood and Miss Brown left Fort Smith to drive to Mount Vista about 11 p.m. and did not return to her hotel room until 12:30 or 1 a.m. May 14, she testified. There she continued, they picked up Mrs. Pat Taylor and the trio went to a nightclub at Moffett, Okla.

It was there that she first heard of the shooting, Miss Brown testified.

Rush, who was wounded in the shoulder, said he and his stepfather went to the company to investigate a light that was burning on the third floor.

Mrs. Taylor, described by state and defense attorneys as Rush's former girl friend, has testified that she heard Rush the broke off with her last January, Miss Brown and Wood plotting the murder of the elder Rush.

Miss Brown said she and Wood used a "short gun" to shoot cans on the mountain. A .22 caliber Buellline Magnum revolver was introduced as a defense exhibit Saturday.

King, Others Are Found in Contempt

By ROSS M. HAGEN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A circuit judge today found the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and 10 other Negro ministers in contempt of court for defying a state injunction against racial demonstrations.

Judge W. A. Jenkins Jr. sentenced the Negro desegregation leaders to five days in jail starting May 16 and fined each $50.

Convicted with King were his brother, the Rev. A. D. King, and the Revs. Wyatt Tee Walker, Ralph D. Abernathy, Fred L. Shuttlesworth, Andrew Young, John Thomas Porter, Theodis L. Fisher, Nelson H. Smith Jr., Joshua W. Hayes and James Luther Bevels.

In an eight-page ruling, Jenkins held that the Negro leaders had committed obvious acts of contempt. He said they had deliberately and blatantly disregarded his court order.

The judge quoted a Supreme Court justice who held that the dignity of the courts must be maintained and the law of the land must prevail.

Jenkins issued the restrainer April 10, one week after racial demonstrations began in this industrial city. The city brought the proceedings against the leaders.

King, Abernathy, Shuttlesworth and several of the others were arrested during a protest march April 12.

An attorney for the defendants, Jack Greenberg of New York, said the decision would be appealed to the Alabama Supreme Court, and to the U.S. Supreme Court, if necessary. He can appeal only on alleged errors in the case.

Gambrell is minister of education at Pine Bluff's South Side Baptist Church. One will replace Dr. Maurice Hurley, who will become chairman of the psychology department and head of student counseling and institutional research.

HOW TO ACT LIKE A DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My mother-in-law has always been a nervous, delicate person. Dad caters to her every wish.

For 20 years I've been conscientious and thoughtful, making it a nice family relationship. We have two lovely sons.

Since last October she has had arthritis in her knees and been off her feet much ever since. Consequently now she has a maid two or three days a week. We feel she should be using her legs and not just sit, for fear of becoming worse.

Last week during our conversation on the phone, I suggested she see a specialist to find whether she should be using her knees, so she wouldn't have to have a maid so often or become an invalid. She hit the ceiling.

"Don't you tell me what to do unless I ask your opinion," she stormed. "I don't want your advice." I ended the conversation by saying she had certainly shown me my place and need not worry I would no longer be the concerned daughter-in-law.

To make matters worse, Dad phoned my husband saying he did not want us to call or come in to see them any more, nor would they be out to see us. Then hung up before my astonished husband could reply. It worries us to see them cut off life and happiness because of a wrong attitude of mind.

What must we do? Stay away, apologize, or agree with them, even though we don't think like they do? Was it wrong to have said what I said? —Concerned

Dear Concerned: There is something about an in-law relationship which is dynamite, especially where older people like your mother-in-law are concerned. Ignore the flare-up and send her a pot of gay flowers with a card signed by you and your husband, wishing her the happiness which the advent of spring should bring. Whether or not she responds, continue sending her some thoughtful little gifts from time to time. Obviously she is very insecure about the future. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my two leaflets, "Mothers - in - law" and "Daughters - in - law."

Dear Helen: Please print this as an answer to "Happy Grandma":

I do believe that you are just grand. Everything you have mentioned is correct. Your children and grandchildren treat you well because in your wisdom you have set them an example. You are level headed and fully sane. It is people like you and your husband that have built up this great country of ours. Yes, there are others who think like you do. I am pasting your article in my scrapbook. Good luck — Jack Silverman, 1770 Davidson Avenue, Bronx, N.Y.

Dear Helen: I am 19 years old and have been working since graduation. Last January I went back to Iowa for two months to live with an aunt and an uncle. While there I started dating my second cousin (not blood relation), four years older than me. He didn't want me to leave.

Now that I'm home again I'm so lonesome for him I can't stand it and miss my aunt and uncle very much. I want to go back and stay. They are more than willing, having no girls.

My folks oppose my return unless I marry my second cousin. He's asked me to marry him but I'm not sure I love him that much. He's not the only reason I want to go back. I love Iowa.

My folks feel that if I return so soon, people will think the only reason is this second cousin. If it doesn't work out between us they will talk and I'll have made a fool of myself. You see just about all of our relations are back there. For once I don't think my folks are right. Do you? —Homesick for Iowa

Dear Homesick: Your parents are right but not for the reason you give. What others say is immaterial but it is important that you know your own mind before returning to Iowa. Otherwise you may find yourself beguiled into marriage simply because you love

SUNDAY'S STARS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BATTING — Carl Yastrzemski, young Red Sox outfielder rapped six hits in the doubleheader 4-3 and 6-2 victory over the White Sox. He drove in three runs with three hits in the opener including the winning run with a 12th inning double. He smacked three hits in the second game, drove in a run and collected his third and fourth doubles of the afternoon.

PITCHING — Warren Spahn,

Braves' 42-year-old southpaw, registered his fourth victory of the young season, defeating the Giants 3-1. He spaced 11 hits, struck out four and walked none.

Pott, who had shot the identical score for three rounds as Rodgers—66-71-66—was a stroke behind as he came into 17. Rodgers, the blond belter from San Diego, already had finished with a 6-under-par 65 for 268—a record for the 6,775-yard Oak Hills Country Club course.

Pott was back on the fringe with his second shot on the par 4 hole. He chipped barely past the hole, then missed a 3-foot putt and took a bogey. So all he could do to even tie for the lead was shoot a hole-in-one on 18. He took a par there.

Rodgers, the 25-year-old tour junior, racked up $4,300 with his victory and climbed into ninth place among the money winners, now having a total of $13,661.67.

Arnold Palmer, the Texas Open defending champion and holder of the course record of 270 which Rodgers broke was six strokes behind starting the final round. He had a 67 for 276 and tied for ninth, winning $1,050.

Yastrzemski's Bat Helps Sox Win a Pair

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Carl Yastrzemski pulled out of college to concentrate on studying. As an advanced student majoring in hitting a baseball, he appears well on his way to a master's degree.

The 23-year-old outfielder, who gave up off-season attendance at Notre Dame to better prepare for his job with the Boston Red Sox, earned high marks Sunday with a performance that sent him near the top of the American League batting class.

Yastrzemski rapped out six hits in 10 trips, including a game-clinching double in the opener, as the Red Sox swept the Chicago White Sox 4-2 in 12 innings and 6-2. The barrage zoomed his average 44 points to .365, second in the league to the .400 owned by Wayne Causey of the Kansas City Athletics.

Causey hit his average with 2-for-5 and the amazing A's recaptured first place by shading Washington 6-5 with a four-run eighth inning. Dean Chance hurled a five-hitter as Los Angeles edged Baltimore 3-2, dropping the Orioles from first to fourth.

Whitey Ford won his first of the year and hit a home run in a 5-0 victory over Cleveland that carried the New York Yankees into second, one game back of the A's and 15 percentage points ahead of Boston. The Detroit Tigers ended a losing string at three, whipping the Minnesota Twins 4-0 behind Jim Bunning's five-hit pitching.

In the National League—Warren Spahn and the Milwaukee Braves beat San Francisco 3-1; Ken Boyer banged two homers as St. Louis won for the seventh straight time at Los Angeles, 9-5; Bob Aspromonte's ninth-inning single gave Houston a 3-2 decision over Cincinnati; Pittsburgh edged the New York Mets 3-2; and homers by Ron Santo and Ernie Banks in the eighth powered the Chicago Cubs over Philadelphia 4-1.

Yastrzemski came through against an assortment of Chicago pitchers in Sunday's doubleheader sweep. His biggest hit was the 12th-inning double against flustered ball artist Hoyt Wilhelm.

The Athletics produced their four big runs in the eighth against the Senators on singles by Ed Charles and Chuck Esseglin, a wild throw by losing pitcher Claude Osteen that went for a whopping three-base error, George Alusk's single, and another bad throw by Chuck Cottier.

Chance and the Angels overcame the Orioles despite five errors, two of them by the Los Angeles right-hander. Jim Fregosi's two-run double in the fifth proved the key hit for the winners, coming off loser Pete Burnside. Baltimore starter Milt Pappas suffered a spike wound in the second inning that required four stitches and was forced out of action.

Ford, the redoubtable left-hander plagued by early season arm trouble and loser of his first two decisions, sparked for the Yankees. He allowed just two hits in a seven-inning stint, then gave way to Hal Reniff, who retired the last six Indians in order.

Coot Veal supported Bunning admirably as the Tigers halted the Twins' victory string at four, driving in three runs with a sacrifice fly and a single. Bunning struck out six in winning his first in five starts.

First Presbyterian Burns Church Mortgage

WHEN FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ERECTED ITS $150,000 building in 1953-54 it borrowed $75,000 of the cost from the late N. P. O'Neal on a 20-year mortgage. Sunday morning the mortgage was burned in view of the congregation — which had paid off the debt in a little over nine years.

surrendered the note given his late father.

OTHER MEMBERS OF THE BUILDING COMMITTEE: Mrs. J. W. Branch, Mrs. R. L. Gosnell, Vincent W. Foster, John B. Lowe, and David L. McKenzie.

OTHER MEMBERS OF THE FINANCE COMMITTEE: C. C. Spragins, chairman, deceased; Mrs. N. T. Jewell, C. C. Lewis, and Thomas F. McLarty, Sr.

THIS PICTURE FROM NINE YEARS AGO SHOWS B. W. Edwards, the contractor, turning over the keys of the new church building to Mr. Pilkinton, left, with the late C. C. Spragins, chairman of the finance committee, at the right. McAninch & Wahner, Little Rock, were the architects. The date: Jan. 31, 1954.

PASTOR BACK IN 1954 AND TODAY IS THE REV. L. T. Lawrence — and on the occasion of the burning of the mortgage a group in the congregation presented him with a new automobile. It is a Ford Fairlane sedan, with all power equipment and air-conditioning — and the picture shows the pastor and his daughter Beth with the new car.

DONORS OF THE CAR: Thomas F. McLarty, Frank McLarty, Robert Wilson, James Pilkinton, Dr. Jim McKenzie, Dr. Lynn Harris, Billy Duckett, Hamilton Hanegan, C. C. Lewis, Mrs. Hazel Prichard and Miss Opal Daniels.

Spahn Seems to Be Getting Better, Better

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Poor old Warren Spahn. He ain't what he used to be. He's better. Wondrous Warren, who turned 42 last Tuesday, pitched Milwaukee into third place in the National League Sunday as the Braves swept the three-game series from the San Francisco Giants, 3-1.

It was Spahn's fourth victory against one defeat and it was an epic one.

It marked the first time in Spahn's illustrious major league career, dating back to 1942, that he registered four victories in the month of April.

Elsewhere in the league—the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Dodgers 9-5 for their seventh consecutive victory at Los Angeles; Pittsburgh, topping the standings by four percentage points over the Cards, won its fourth straight with a 3-2 decision over the New York Mets; Chicago's surprising Cubs rallied for four runs in the eighth to defeat Philadelphia 4-1, and the Houston Colts snapped a ninth-inning tie to nip the Cincinnati Reds 3-2.

In the American League—Kansas City's Athletics barged back into the lead, coming from behind with four runs in the eighth to defeat Washington 6-5; the New York Yankees shut out Cleveland 5-0; Detroit also scored a shut out, whipping Minnesota 4-0; Los Angeles topped Baltimore 3-2, and Boston took two from the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 12 innings and 6-2.

Spahn lost his bid for lifetime shutout No. 57 when the Giants scored in the ninth but he gained career victory No. 331 as he turned in his fourth complete game of the campaign.

Henry Aaron led the Braves' attack against loser Juan Marichal. He collected two of his team's six hits, including his seventh home run.

Ken Boyer drove in three runs with a pair of homers and Ernie Broglio registered his third victory as the Cardinals ripped the Dodgers. Broglio needed relief in the seventh inning to keep alive his hex over the Dodgers. He has beaten them four straight times.

Three eighth-inning singles, capped by Bill Mazeroski's with two out, scored the run that broke a 2-2 tie and gave Pittsburgh its fourth straight, the last three against the Mets.

Houston inched into ninth place, past the beleaguered Mets, with its victory over the Reds. Bob Aspromonte singled home Carl Warwick with the tie-breaking run in the ninth.

Philadelphia's Chris Short had a shutout until two out in the eighth when two singles and back-to-back homers by Ron Santo and Ernie Banks gave the Cubs four runs and the game.

Cuban Pulls Another Pan-am Upset

By JESSE LISK

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—The powerful United States team wasn't gloating Monday over its rich harvest of 61 gold medals in the Pan-American Games—it was griping over the one that got away.

"Fast gun," U.S. track officials complained after their ace sprinter, Ira Murchison of Chicago, was beaten by Cuba's Enrique Figueroa, in the 100-meter dash. It was obviously a bitter pill to swallow coming on the heels of two baseball defeats at the hands of the Cuban team.

Figueroa was off like a shot and won the 100 meters, long a U.S. specialty, in the good time of 10.3 seconds. Murchison finished third, back of Arquimedes Herrera of Venezuela.

The Yanks have won seven gold medals in 12 track and field finals, collecting four championships Sunday.

They also completed a sweep of the swimming pool, winning all 16 men's and women's swimming events and three of the four diving competitions. In swimming, they set games records in all but one event—the women's 400-meter medley relay.

They added four gold medals in rowing and two in shooting, won another baseball game, beating Venezuela 4-1; crushed Peru in mens' basketball 104-56; beat Chile in womens' basketball 57-37; won over Chile 3-1 in mens' volleyball and scored victories in the Star and Flying Dutchman classes in the yachting competition.
